

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to express my interest in a role at Siemens. With a background in Computer Science and hands-on experience in Python,c++,golang,react js,backend development and front end development, I'm excited about contributing to Siemens' mission of driving innovation and sustainable technology.

In my previous role at Saptang labs, I have worked on various scalable products, which sharpened my problem-solving and teamwork skills. Siemens' focus on development towards future aligns well with my passion for impactful,future-focused work.

I would welcome the opportunity to bring value to your team and discuss how my skills can support Siemens' goals.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Ganesh kumar R
